PBIS Program Keeps Spirits Soaring During Pandemic

During the past year at FCSD the Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports (PBIS) Program has continued holding special events every month to honor students and staff in both school buildings for positive behavior in and outside the classroom.

Each month of the school year has a special designation and focus to acknowledge students nominated by school staff with Star Awards and Superhero Virtual Assemblies. At BCES, PBIS Staff e-mail about events, provide resources for bullying prevention, and request nominations for "On a Roll" virtual assemblies to reward students for making positive changes in behavior. DAYS OF YORE....*Today's History*April 11, 1951

Lows Corners and the Sugar Loaf Creek are a scene of great activity this Monday morning. There are two bulldozers, two shovels, a derrick, a grader and a host of trucks and men. The Cooney Bros. are working in the creek above the Grahamsville-Sundown Bridge over the Sugar Loaf. The Walsh-Perini Company is working at the Sugar Loaf Bridge with men and equipment, and the Town and County are working above the bridge. The washed out bridge will be ready for use in a day or two.

From a New York University professor of education comes the warning that church and home are in a sense like Siamese twins - if they are separated, they both may die. There's a challenge there for the many educated parents who today are undertaking the job of bringing up their children without help from any church. Such families have grown away from the idea that the church should play a vital role in family living.

Farm Cadets will again be coming to Sullivan County this season. Seventeen years of experience with New York City high school boys as farm workers has shown that the city boys can and will do farm work.

From four to six inches of sloppy, rain-soaked snow covered the Tri Valley area Monday. Schools were open and roads were generally passable. On Tuesday, the sky was overcast and snow still blanketed the area to the disgust of robins and other travelers returning from the south.

Delightfully Delectable Leek

The leek in our backyard have poked their way out of the still cold soil and last fall's decaying leaves and starting to develop broad, smooth light green leaves. Deep purple or burgundy tints on the lower stems are now visible.

Leek (Allium tricoccum, family Liliaceae) have scallion like bulbs that are strongly rooted just beneath the surface of the soil. If you tear a leaf or stem and take a sniff you will recognize the strong and distinctive onion/garlic-like scent of the Wild Leek

This herbaceous perennial plant produces basal leaves 4-9" long and 1 1/2 -3 1/2" across on short petioles (leaf stalks that joins two or three leaves to the stem). The basal leaves are ovate-oval to ovate-elliptic, light to medium green, hairless, and smooth along the margins.

Their petioles are reddish, hairless, and wrapped in a basal sheath below. The leaves develop during the spring and wither away by early summer. During early to mid-summer, a flowering stalk about 1/2-1 1/2' tall develops. This stalk is cylindrical and slightly tapered, smooth, and reddish to pale green; at its base, there is a papery sheath. The stalk terminates in a single rounded umbel (flower cluster) of flowers spanning 1-2" across; there are typically 20-40 flowers per umbel. At the base of this umbel, there is a pair of deciduous bracts. Each flower is about 1/4" across, consisting of 6 white to translucent white tepals (a segment of the outer whorl in a flower that has no differentiation between petals and sepals), a light green to pale yellow ovary, 6 stamens with pale yellow anthers, and a single white style. At the base of each flower, there is a slender pedicel that is white to greenish white. The blooming period occurs during the summer and lasts about 2 weeks. Both the flowers and foliage exude an onion-like odor. After the blooming period, the ovary of each flower matures into a 3-celled seed capsule; each cell contains a single globoid seed that becomes black at maturity. The root system consists of an ovoid bulb with fibrous roots at its base. Offsets often develop, producing clonal colonies of plants.

They like rich, moist, loose soil high in organic matter and low in pH, which makes mountain hardwood forests perfect. Ramps grow in small sparsely populated patches up to densely populated areas of several acres. They are usually ready to harvest by mid March through April depending on the region and only last a month or so before wilting and disappearing.

It is extremely important to think conservatively when considering ramp harvest. In many areas where ramps were once abundant they are now rare and populations continue to be decimated by over-harvesting for ramp festivals, fundraisers, farmers market sales and by individuals who gather as much as they can for their own use. Please be gentle and use good judgment. The most sustainable way to harvest ramps is by using a knife to gently move the soil from one side of the bulb. Then, taking care not to dislodge the bulb and roots, cut the base off of the bulb leaving it with the roots in the ground. This will ensure new ramps will grow the following season.

Household Hint:

Keep Your Lawn Mower Blades Clean

Grass, has a tendency to accumulate on your lawn mower blades after you cut the lawn. Before you park your mower back in the garage or tool shed, wipe down the blades with a cloth dampened with undiluted white vinegar. It will clean off leftover grass on the blades, as well as any pests that may have been planning to hang out awhile.

A Tree for Life at the Government Center

(From Pg. 1) Monticello, NY - In recognition of April being National Donate Life Month, Sullivan County's Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) Office and County Clerk's Office staff planted an eastern redbud tree at the Sturgis

Road entrance to the Government Center in Monticello on April 9.

“One organ donation can save up to eight lives and affect 75 other lives, yet every 10 minutes, another person is added to the national transplant waiting list. We urge everyone to learn more about donating life-saving organs and to say 'yes' to being an organ donor when completing transactions via the DMV,” encouraged Sullivan County Clerk Russell Reeves, whose office oversees DMV operations in Sullivan County. “Nearly 9,000 New Yorkers are currently waiting for a lifesaving transplant, with 1,500 of them waiting for over five years. And around 400 of them will die every year because an organ is not available in time.”

New Yorkers can also enroll when applying for health insurance or via www.donatelife.ny.gov/register. Donate Life NYS is a nonprofit comprised of organ and tissue recovery organizations, health professionals and individuals whose lives have been affected by donation.

FROM THE CHAIR...

A Monthly Roundup of News from the Chair of the Sullivan County Legislature

Thanks to our Public Health team, we've gotten more than 7400 people vaccinated in Sullivan County as of the beginning of April. (I'm one of them.) And we plan to continue vaccinating as long as there is need and demand. Frankly, that may be for a while, as our number of infected remains stubbornly hovering around 250-260. Deaths have gone past the 70 mark, and we typically have around a dozen people in the hospital due to COVID-19 at any given time. And even while eligibility has opened up to pretty much anyone over 16, the State's lagging behind the national average of people over 65 who have been vaccinated. Plus there's those of us who won't get the vaccine, which doesn't make much sense to me, unless your doctor has ordered you not to take it. It's safe, effective and essential to getting our lives back to normal. Fighting that won't change the reality and will prolong the suffering in our health and our economy. So we've all got work to do. The County's team of professionals is doing their part. Please join by doing yours.

I haven't been digging around in our garbage, but our Solid Waste employees have, and they tell me that close to a third of the waste we ship out of here every year - at a hefty cost - is made up of "organics" like food and plant material.

That's the kind of stuff you can compost, which is basically letting nature do her thing with decomposition, turning what we don't want into something we do: valuable fertilizer.

Some of us already have a composting pile in our backyards. But plenty of us don't, for whatever reason. So I talked to our Sustainability Coordinator Heather Brown & Recycling Coordinator Bill Cutler about setting up a Countywide composting program.

They ran some figures and discovered that by diverting just 20% of those organics to a local composting initiative, we could save over $380,000.

And we could sell the compost we make. If you're a taxpayer, business person or government leader, that should be music to your ears.

But it should also ring in the ears of us who are environmentalists, gardeners and lovers of our natural beauty.

'Cause in addition to saving money, it will keep more tractor-trailers from making unnecessary trips. We'd be reducing greenhouse gas emissions, improving soil quality, and controlling erosion, all at once.

So this is something I think the entire County can support, and I'm excited to say you'll be hearing a lot more about this.

I'm proud to say that in collaboration with the Town of Highland and the Eldred Central School District, Sullivan County worked out a reasonable deal with one of the largest taxpayers in our area, Millennium Pipeline.

Millennium initially wanted their $86.3 million assessment lowered to $27.8 million and the difference refunded, which would have been a huge hit to all our budgets.

Instead, we approached them with a settlement to avoid expensive lawsuits, and they agreed to not ask for any refunds on taxes paid if their Highland assessment was reduced to $62 million. We insisted it stay at that level through at least 2025.

We agreed with Millennium that that's a fair assessment, and we were happy to avoid digging into our pockets to refund previously paid taxes (which can easily happen in these cases).

While Legislature meetings are viewable online, not everyone has the time or ability. So let me fill you in on our activities in February and March... (Contd. Pg. 10)

The Reflecting Pool

Mysterious Book Report No. 444

by John Dwaine McKenna

Although The Reflecting Pool, (Oceanview, $26.95, 352 pages, ISBN 978-1-60809-411-0) by former diplomat and foreign service officer Otho Eskin was published late last year, it was only recently brought to our attention by Mike Durell at the Mysterious Book Shop in New York City . . . and we're very glad that he did . . . because this debut novel starts off with a hot bang, then grows more intense with every chapter. And along the way, it touches upon a radioactive issue in our contemporary world – the two-tiered system of justice that's engineered by and for a powerful elite at the expense of ordinary citizens.

The novel begins when a shifty, but brilliant, Washington, D.C. homicide detective named Marko Zorn is called out at 3 a.m. to the reflecting pool on the Washington Mall, where the body of a Secret Service agent named Sandra Wilcox has just been found floating face down in the water. A turf war breaks out between Zorn, representing the D.C. Metropolitan Police Department, and the Secret Service, who had assigned Wilcox to the prestigious and elite Presidential Protection Detail. Homeland Security tries to assume control of the case and is fought off by Zorn. He then continues as the lead investigator despite the interference and a lack of help from the FBI and Department of Justice. They only vaguely inform him of Wilcox's disturbed brother, a U.S. Army vet and trained killer with ties to a group calling itself the Brotherhood of the Aryan Dawn. But not even a warning from a Presidential Advisor who knew Sandra Dixon, telling him that the investigation is putting national security at risk, deters Zorn from getting to the bottom of the case and solving the murder. At the same time however, an ever expanding pool of thugs, threats and plots take this propulsive whodunnit and thriller to an electrifying conclusion that will leave readers saying, Damn, I never saw that coming . . . and wondering how soon the next Marco Zorn story will get here!

Interview With The Author: Otho Eskin

by
John Dwaine McKenna

Mr. Eskin is a talented, well traveled and accomplished author whose exciting first novel is reviewed in Mysterious Book Report No. 444. He has much to share with us, so let's begin. Here's our first question:

When do you write?

I try to write six hours a day, six days a week, from noon to six. Mornings I reserve for normal, real-world activities such as reading and sending emails, paying bills etc. I try to avoid these activities in the afternoon when I write fiction. I find it best to devote myself single-mindedly to writing. When I work on a writing project I want to get into a groove, undistracted. After six I tend to collapse. Obviously, this schedule is aspirational, not rigid.

Are any of your characters autobiographical?

None are strictly autobiographical. I am not my main character, Marko Zorn, although probably at some subconscious level I project something of myself onto my characters. My main character, Marko Zorn, has nerves of steel and is cool and fearless when faced with danger. If I were faced with these threats, I would be a pussycat. I do share with Marko Zorn a taste for cool jazz and vintage sports cars, and a warped sense of humor. The similarities probably end there.

As to other characters, I have known and worked with many different people over the years, some very unusual, some even eccentric, and I take bits and pieces of the people I know or have met using the personal or social mannerisms that I think fit a scene.

Samsonville is a small hamlet in the Town of Olive. They no longer have a post office and share the zip code with Olivebridge. The anchor of the town was Tetta's owned and operated by Fred Tetta whose family was known by everyone. Fred Tetta purchased it from his dad, Joseph Tetta, and operated it from 1971 to 2019. Fred, intersection of County Route 2 and the Krumville Road, was the place to get tires, gas, the newspaper, cigarettes, milk, eggs and bread. When Fred Tetta passed on, it left a big hole in Samsonville in more ways than one.

Now Fred Tetta's grandson, Primo Stropoli, along with wife Shani, mom (Joanne) and dad (Richard) and sister Cara, manages the new Tetta's, an expanded, upscaled version. Primo, has kept the "old-timey" charm mixed with humor and excellent taste in local products. The Olive Jar Tetta's

(From Pg. 6) I loved the sandwich board that has its sandwich specialties named after local people. There's one called POP POP (I am guessing named after Fred) that sports liverwurst, onions, mustard, on an onion roll with a side of sarcasm. The Ana Garcia is the vegan specialty named after his grandmother who must be very proud of her grandson. Another is called DONNIE "PEACH", named after Donnie Beesmer who is affectionately known as "Peaches." Some have speculated that HOT MOMMA might be Mama Joanne, but she denies it!

We met Eddy Calhoun and wife Trang there, who gave us a "Covidly-correct" hug and said we should try the Calhoun Club. You can even get a five-foot Stromboli there.

It is not only a deli/convenience store, it is a gathering place for activities. There might be a deer pool, a wood-carving by Hoppy Quick, or a book signing. It is a magnet for neighbors and tourists. I am going back today to pick up some Bread Alone and one of the specialty sandwiches. I might get a calzone that my friend Elise raved about or one of the authentic Italian pizzas my friend Martha recommended.

Perhaps Primo will name a sandwich after his old English teacher. It would be the Schoolmarm Sub or English muffin, ham, baloney, sharp cheddar cheese, Greek olives, and a side of un-asked-for advice. Actually the BIG GUY, named for giant Tommy Pedersen, sounds better with roast beef, ham, American cheese, onions, oil and vinegar, or, perhaps, I might try the DRY BROOK ROADKILL.

PBIS Program Keeps Spirits Soaring During Pandemic

(From Pg. 1) Also, BCES celebrated the 100th Day of School when kids and staff chose their own special costume.

Swap Day

Spirit Week this year was March 15-March 19. Monday was "Swap Day" where teachers dressed up like students and students dress up like teachers. Tuesday was "Celebrity Day" where you dressed as a favorite celebrity. Wednesday was when everyone wore green in honor of St. Patrick's Day. Thursday was "Decades Day" when each grade level was assigned a decade and dressed according to the styles of that era.

The week ended with Sports Day where everyone dressed in favorite sports gear.

FCSD Staff received monthly GOOSE Awards. Staff nominated colleagues for their hard work, willingness to help students, and for dedication to the success of our students.

A new way to honor the entire staff was to host a special Staff Luncheon in the BCES School Gym, with proper social distancing. Everyone enjoyed a buffet lunch of sandwiches, chips, soft drinks and cookies made by the PBIS team. PBIS was thanking the BCES staff for their tireless work to make this year a success for all students. The Staff appreciates PBIS for bringing a sense of normalcy and lifting the spirits of everyone in the Fallsburg Central School District.

A Monthly Roundup of News from the Chair of the Sullivan County Legislature (From Pg. 4)

We authorized the annual Countywide Litter Pluck, when you can dump roadside trash at our waste stations for free from April through June.

We executed agreements to launch a major rebuild of East Broadway (County Route 173) in Monticello.

We enacted a Human Rights Law that paves the way for a new, Legislature-appointed nine-member advisory board.

We kept the Certified Home Health Agency (CHHA) in house, rather than continuing to consider selling it to a private firm.

We renegotiated the Sullivan County Visitors Association's (SCVA's) contract, in order to ensure they have ample operating funds while also utilizing some of that funding for an expansion of tourism infrastructure initiatives.

We supported the creation of a volunteer Vaccine Coalition which will help local people learn more about COVID-19 vaccinations.

Interview With The Author: Otho Eskin

What makes a character endearing?

My main character, Marko Zorn, cannot be said to be endearing. He's far too dangerous for that, but I do try to make him interesting and sympathetic. There are many popular books where the main character is an outright villain. Readers are sometimes drawn to that. Think of Patricia Highsmith's character Tom Ripley. There is nothing endearing about him, but many readers find him fascinating. The aim of any writer, in whatever genre, is to make the main character engaging, even if flawed; someone the reader cares about and can identify with. But they have to be interesting. In my experience as a reader, I find characters who are unblemished and perfect turn out to be uninteresting.

How long, start to finish, do you take to write a finished novel, on average?

It's hard to say exactly. I am a fast writer and could probably complete a first draft of a novel in six to eight weeks. But I am an obsessive rewriter. I can't seem to leave my text alone. I am always tinkering with it. Not the main plot. That is usually fixed. But paragraphs and sentence I tend to rework. And there are the contributions from other readers who often have valuable suggestions and advice that can lead to further rewrites. As an estimate, it probably takes me a year from when I put the first words on paper until I have a finished product.

Do you plot-outline or wing it?

I plot outline but only in my head. I have never written out a plot outline on paper. When I start a writing project I know who the main characters are. I know the opening scene, I know the final climactic scene, and I have a general sense of how the narrative progresses. As I do the actual writing, new scenes and events and even new characters may occur to me, and I incorporate them. Most scenes I pre-write in my head long before putting them down on paper. I don't think I have ever written a scene before I have imagined the entire scene in my head first. Then writing becomes more like transcribing my thoughts.

Do you write in more than one genre?

Before writing thrillers, I wrote plays. Maybe for that reason I use lots of dialogue to tell the story. And stage directions in play scripts are always in the present tense and maybe that influenced me to write my novels in the present tense.

What method do you use to keep track of plot details?

I always maintain a separate manuscript on my hard drive with details about the story including characters' names, dates, and time lines that I refer to constantly as I write.

Where do you get most, some, or any your story ideas from?

Many of the ideas in my fiction are drawn, loosely, from current events. One of the main themes in The Reflecting Pool involves a plot by a white supremacist militia to assassinate the President of the United States and start a revolution. My next novel, HEAD SHOT, features a 'Me Too' incident and the violent climax is drawn from a real event that occurred in Washington involving an international diplomatic assassination.

Are you more comfortable writing in the first, or third person POV?

My novels have all been written in the first person (and present tense). Everything that happens is seen through the eyes of the protagonist, Marko Zorn. I feel for this kind of fiction, the first person form adds urgency and immediacy to the narrative.

Where could you be reached on the World Wide Web?

Tri-Valley Lions Calico Geese Quilt Raffle - June 1, 2021

The Tri-Valley Lions organization is pleased to announce a fund-raising raffle of a beautiful quilt donated to our group by Sally Abrams, President of the Calico Geese Quilters group, which has 45 talented members and meets at the Cornell Cooperative Extension in Ferndale. Per Sally, the Calico Geese Quilters have donated their handmade, gorgeous quilts in the last year to the Sullivan County Veterans Alliance, Foster Children of Sullivan County, Ride to Survive, Allyson Whitney Foundation, The Liberty Fire Department, Cornell Cooperative Extension, and now to the Tri-Valley Lions.

Sally tells us that the quilt donated to the Lions for its raffle is a 60" X 70" Bed Topper, and she hopes "that everyone opens their hearts and wallets to support the Tri-Valley Lions."

The drawing will be held on June 1, 2021, and the winner does not need to be present to win. Raffle tickets are $5 for 1 ticket or $10 for 3 tickets. Tickets will be available from Gene Froehlich at 845-439-4921; Mary Lou Vernooy (Membership Chairperson) at 845-434-7781 or Terry Delaney at 845-434-8696.

All funds raised from the sale of the raffle tickets will go right into the Tri-Valley Lions Charity Account so our group can continue its mission to support Guiding Eyes for the Blind, Lions Cancer Awareness, 5 local food pantries, eye tests and glasses for those in our community who are unable to afford these on their own due to lack of insurance, assistance to those in our community that have had catastrophic illnesses, or the misfortune of loss due to fire, The Heart-A-Thon, Diabetes awareness, and so many more causes.

The Tri-Valley Lions group was chartered in 1977 and has been serving our community for more than 40 years. While we have lost many members over the years, we are proud to say that we still have several members who have been with our group since its inception. To those members we lost over the years, we still think about them, miss them, and continue to acknowledge the dedication of all members, past and present, and we know our community is appreciative of the contributions we've made since 1977.

Due to Covid 19, The Tri-Valley Lions group has been unable to perform our major fundraising efforts, which include running the soda booth at the Fairgrounds, our Annual Tri-Valley Journey For Sight and Tag Day. We look forward to the day we can once again interact in person, open our soda booth, and do our Journey For Sight Walk, which will increase our Charity Account so we can be even more responsive to those who need our assistance. To help get there we hope that all will continue to be tested, get the vaccine when available, wear your mask, practice social distancing, wash or sanitize your hands frequently, and stay home when you are ill.

Thank you for your support and of course we are always looking for new members to join The Tri-Valley Lions. For additional information about the Quilt or raffles or becoming a member of The Tri-Valley Lions, please call Gene Froehlich at 845-439-4921.

Impossible Coconut Pie

Springtime is a very busy time - running the kids to baseball practice, sprucing up the yard, and of course spring cleaning, just to name a few of the season's activities!

This week's recipe comes from my sister, Elise, who gave me the recipe back in the '60's.

Not only is it delicious, but it is quick and easy. Just the type of dessert you need for this busy time of the year

- 2 cups milk
- 1/2 cup baking mix*
- 1/4 cup butter
- 3/4 cup white sugar
- 4 eggs
- 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla extract
- 1 cup flaked coconut

DIRECTIONS:

1. Preheat oven to 350 degrees F (175 degrees C). Grease a 9 inch pie plate.
  2. Combine milk, sugar, biscuit mix, eggs, butter or margarine, and vanilla in blender container. Cover, and blend on low speed for 3 minutes. Pour into prepared pie plate. Let stand about 5 minutes. Sprinkle with coconut.
  3. Bake for 40 minutes. Serve warm.

Letter to the Editor: Virus Susceptibility Of Our Navy

As a former Navy enlisted and officer who served on 13 ships in the 1950s and 1960s I am very concerned with the preparedness of our ships in light of the COVID19 pandemic..

CAPT. Crozier, the commanding officer of the USS Theodore Roosevelt (TR) was relieved of command because he publicly criticized the Navy's response to the COVID19 outbreak on his ship. He showed poor judgement by publicizing the event to our potential adversaries who could possibly take advantage of the TRs situation, but his concern for his crew and the viability of his ship was valid.

Our ships house anywhere from about 25 to 5000 naval personnel in cramped quarters depending on the size of the ship, e.g. minecraft versus aircraft carriers. When the TR was laid up we had one of only 11 attack carriers out of commission. Typically there are five or six carriers in port undergoing repairs, routine maintenance, refurbishment and other requirements. This leaves only five or six carriers available to cover the vast corners of the world with forward deployment of our sea power. If one or more carriers are laid up due to serious health conditions, we might not be able to respond in a timely manner to threats around the world.

The Pentagon has been working on plans to combat viruses within our armed forces, including vulnerable ships. Part of the solution to combat viruses is to restrict visits to foreign ports in countries that have virus outbreaks. We can't restrict the movement of personnel in home ports because of the need to refresh on land after deployments at sea. A possibility is to temporarily change home ports of ships for short periods to avoid virus hot spots, and if available and useable, utilize former facilities that were shut down or drawn down. Civilian shipyards and docking facilities might be able to be used on a temporary basis. Even with virus vaccinations the Navy might have to conduct routine testing of personnel on board ships, especially when they are ashore and come back aboard ships. Personnel infected with a virus would then be quarantined ashore. If sailors contract a virus while at sea the Navy has to have a separate space in each ship with negative pressure, and must have adequate ventilators and ppe available. .

All naval personnel must be required to receive COVID vaccinations and other virus vaccinations when they become available, and they should not be allowed to opt out. Our national security hinges on the readiness of our military. Unfortunately, I do not see how our Navy can implement personnel distancing. We might be able to reduce the size of crews with more automation and possibly have less contact in working spaces but they would still have to work and eat in crowded settings. However, we still need a minimum complement to run the ship and man the aircraft on carriers.

The virus enemy is upon us, and it will require innovative adjustments within our armed forces, especially the Navy, to provide our country with a viable national security posture. Communist China accidentally unleashed a highly contagious and lethal virus on the world and it could try to use biological warfare against our military in the future. China is currently expanding its military, including its Navy, and It has more naval vessels than the United States, especially frigates and destroyers. By 2025 China will have more aircraft carriers and amphibious assault ships in the Pacific than the United States. We need to evaluate our Naval strategy in the Pacific in light of the expansion and threat of China's Navy.

As Americans Struggle to Recover from COVID-10 Crisis, Gillibrand announces Legislation to Break Down Barriers to Essential Social Services

HOPE Act Would Ensure Families Can Access Vital Benefits To Reduce Food and Housing Insecurity, And Obtain Health Care, Job Training and Unemployment Assistance Programs

WASHINGTON, D.C. - U.S. Senator Kirsten Gillibrand announced legislation to break down barriers to essential social services as Americans struggle to recover from the COVID-19 crisis. Gillibrand will reintroduce the Health, Opportunities, and Personal Empowerment Act, or HOPE Act, comprehensive legislation to break down barriers for low-income individuals and families so they can access the social services and benefits they need to make ends meet. Throughout the pandemic, millions of recently unemployed Americans have turned to government support services - many for the first time - in order to keep food on the table and pay their bills. The HOPE Act would modernize and streamline how eligible recipients access critical nutrition, housing, health care, job training, and unemployment assistance programs. Companion legislation was reintroduced in the House of Representatives by Congressman Joe Morelle (D-NY).

“Throughout the course of the pandemic, millions of Americans have lost their jobs and are struggling to support their families,” said Senator Gillibrand. “Now, in this critical time of recovery, the federal government has a responsibility to make anti-poverty, health care, nutrition, housing, and work support programs accessible to as many people as possible. The HOPE Act would remove barriers for low-income and underserved Americans to access government services, and streamline our safety net programs. I’m proud to reintroduce this legislation with Congressman Morelle and I will continue to prioritize support for New Yorkers in need.”

“Every day, families rely on government programs to help put food on the table and meet basic needs-and these services have been in even greater demand during the COVID-19 pandemic,” said Congressman Morelle. “Unfortunately, there are significant barriers that too often hold individuals back from accessing the benefits they need and deserve. I’m proud to partner with Senator Gillibrand on our legislation, the HOPE Act, to help empower Americans with the tools to succeed and ensure no one is left behind.”

Joel Berg, CEO of Hunger Free America, a nationwide direct service and advocacy organizations said, “Given that the newly-enacted recovery act authorizes additional, live-saving hunger and poverty assistance, it’s particularly urgent for advance the idea, which Hunger Free America has long championed, of making it easier for low-income people to apply online for a wide variety of benefits, and enable them to voluntarily agree with government and nonprofit agencies on plans to increase their long-term economic opportunity. We are very grateful that Congressman Morelle and Senator Gillibrand are taking the lead in turning this idea into reality. HOPE accounts and actions plans have the potential to dramatically improve and modernize safety net programs both during the crisis and beyond - thereby both reducing poverty in America and ensuring more program efficiency for taxpayers. This effort is also perfectly in-line with the Biden Administration’s push to upgrade the nation’s digital infrastructure. As always, we appreciate Senator Gillibrand being one of the nation’s top leaders on hunger and food issues.”

More than 82 million people have applied for unemployment benefits since the beginning of the pandemic. However, the process has been mired in administrative challenges including unreasonably long wait times, misinformation regarding eligibility, dropped calls, and the inability to start the application process. Additionally, while demand for nutrition services like SNAP has skyrocketed, many states and counties are struggling with significant backlogs. Hardworking families are relying on these programs more than ever, yet they have faced unacceptable delays or have been turned away for benefits for which they qualify. The HOPE Act would provide meaningful change to the administration, application, and distribution of key benefits at a time when they are needed the most.

Attorney General James Issues Alert Urging New Yorkers to Report Unlawful Vaccine Charges

NEW YORK - New York Attorney General Letitia James today issued a consumer alert to remind New Yorkers that coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) vaccines are free of charge, and urged any resident of the state who has been charged a fee to report it to her office immediately.

"As we continue to make progress in recovering from this public health crisis, it is vital that every individual has access to this free, lifesaving vaccine and that there are no barriers to New Yorkers receiving their dose," said Attorney General James. "The vaccine is free of charge for all New Yorkers, and I encourage everyone to get vaccinated as soon as they are eligible. My office is committed to protecting New Yorkers and enforcing the law, which is why I urge anyone who has been charged a fee for receiving the vaccine to report it immediately to my office."

COVID-19 vaccines are now available to all New Yorkers over the age of 16, and must be administered free of charge. Individuals who have been charged a fee for vaccination are encouraged to file a complaint online with the Office of the Attorney General or call 1-800-771-7755.

Late last month, Attorney General James issued another alert to New Yorkers to beware of scams making fraudulent promises to consumers, promising them the ability to cut COVID-19 vaccine lines or receive additional stimulus payments. Additionally, earlier this month, Attorney General James and a bipartisan coalition of attorneys general sent a letter to the CEOs of Twitter, eBay, and Shopify, asking the CEOs to act immediately to prevent the sale of fake COVID-19 vaccination cards on their platforms.

Statement from Governor Andrew M. Cuomo on Johnson & Johnson Vaccines

"Vaccines are the weapon that will win the war against COVID, and with over 11 million shots in arms - including 1.4 million doses administered in just the last seven days - New York's vast distribution network is firing on all cylinders. As has been the case since the beginning of our vaccination effort, the X-factor is supply, supply, supply, and like every other state, our allocation of Johnson & Johnson doses will be significantly lower next week.

"In Week 18, New York will receive just 34,900 Johnson & Johnson shots - a drop of 88% week-over-week and the first decrease in weeks - while no appointments should have to be cancelled, we will not be able to get as many shots into New Yorkers' arms as we would like. We hope the production issues are resolved as soon as possible, and that production ramps up quickly so we can expand the number of New Yorkers who are vaccinated. In the meantime, we thank the Biden Administration for their herculean efforts to vaccinate all Americans, and look forward to continuing our partnership to stamp out COVID once and for all. As we continue to roll out vaccines, everyone must remember to wear masks, socially distance, wash their hands, and stay New York Tough."

Governor Cuomo Updates New Yorkers on State Vaccination Program

Governor Andrew M. Cuomo updated New Yorkers on the state's vaccination program Sunday evening. 189,820 doses have been administered across the state's vast distribution network in the last 24 hours, and nearly 1.5 million doses have been administered over the past seven days. The week 17 allocation of 1,727,225 first and second doses, New York's highest allocation to date, is expected to finish arriving today.

"While we remain in a footrace against the infection rate, we know the vaccine works and are making steady progress in getting more New Yorkers vaccinated," Governor Cuomo said. "I urge everyone who has not yet signed up for an appointment to do so. Our providers are working around the clock to get shots into arms, and getting vaccinated is how you can show your support for them and for your community."

New York's vast distribution network and large population of eligible individuals still far exceed the supply coming from the federal government. Due to limited supply, New Yorkers are encouraged to remain patient and are advised not to show up at vaccination sites without an appointment.

The 'Am I Eligible' screening tool has been updated for individuals with comorbidities and underlying conditions with new appointments released on a rolling basis over the next weeks. New Yorkers can use the following to show they are eligible:

- o Doctor's letter, or
- o Medical information evidencing comorbidity, or
- o Signed certification

Why wear a mask?

Out of respect.

When you wear a mask you are saying,
I respect my neighbors.

When you wear a mask you are saying,
I respect nurses and doctors.

When you wear a mask you are saying,
I respect other people.

We all need to show respect to one another in difficult times.

Wearing a face covering is a small inconvenience to protect others. We have gotten through this crisis by standing together and doing the right thing. The right thing - the respectful thing - is to wear a mask.

ULSTER COUNTY LEGISLATURE DELIVERS PUBLIC COMMENT TO FEDERAL ENERGY REGULATORY COMMISSION (FERC) ON PROPOSED ASHOKAN PUMP STORAGE PROJECT

Kingston, NY – The Ulster County Legislature submitted a letter, signed by all 23 members, to the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) as official Public Comment in the matter of Premium Energy Holdings LLC Preliminary Permit application for the Ashokan Pumped Storage Project.

In their letter the Legislature highlighted numerous concerns by residents, elected officials, environmental professionals and community stakeholders including: flooding of residential communities, damage to trout spawning areas, blockage of popular hiking trails, encroachments on “Forever Wild” lands and unknown and unexplored effects on underground aquifers and private wells. Chief among concerns was the lack of notice that a project was being proposed.

“Ulster County's mountain communities have understood and willingly participated in supplying the best water in the world to the best city in the world. We're proud of that legacy,” stated Legislator John Parete (D-Denning, Hardenburgh, Olive & Shandaken). “This proposal was floated because of our unique location and topography. From the beginning the plan was poorly thought out and poorly presented and most certainly lacked transparency.”

The letter was sent directly to FERC Director Vince Yearick, as well as the NYS Department of Environmental Conservation and New York City Department of Environmental Protection who issued their own opposition to the project on April 8 and requesting regulators deny the project.

The full letter from the Ulster County Legislature follows on the next 3 pages.

RE: P-15056 Premium Energy Holdings LLC Preliminary Permit application for the Ashokan Pumped Storage Project

Dear Director Yearick,

We, the below signed members of the Ulster County Legislature, hereby unanimously submit the following to be considered public comment in the matter of Premium Energy Holdings LLC Preliminary Permit application for the Ashokan Pumped Storage Project: P-15056.

Our commitment to sustainable, renewable power enterprises notwithstanding, projects of this nature should not, and cannot be initiated under a shroud of secrecy. We are appalled at the lack of transparency demonstrated thus far for a proposal of this size and scope located in one of New York State's most protected regions. For the past month we have received repeated protests from local and state officials and community stakeholders who were caught off guard and by surprise. Regrettably we must count ourselves among those who were blindsided by the existence of a permit application for a Pumped Storage Hydroelectric power system under and upstream of the Ashokan Reservoir.

It is incumbent upon us as Ulster County elected representatives to make sure that there is no harm caused to our communities. Even under the best of circumstances this proposal will cause serious upheaval to residents and visitors alike. It's sad that Olive and the mountain communities have, for the last 100 years, worked with New York City to supply and protect one of the best water resources in the world. Now Ulster County communities, already stripped of 118,000 acres owned by NY City and another 250,000 owned by NYS, are once again being asked to cede more property both public and private.

The current proposal appears to raise more questions than answers. Each of the proposed sites for the new upper reservoir present numerous concerns and questions. A quick and cursory reading of the proposal point to the blocking of spawning areas of a number of trout fisheries, potential, if not assured flooding of residential communities and access points to popular hiking trails, and serious encroachments on constitutionally designated forever wild lands. Additionally, there are unknown effects on underground aquifers and private wells upon which hundreds Ulster County's rural residents depend, and question as to how will this plant effect the turbidity in the Ashokan and by consequence the Lower Esopus; an issue this body has been struggling to have adequately addressed for more than a decade?

(Contd. Pg. 26b)

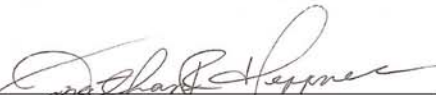

We understand that this proposal is in its infancy and at a very preliminary point in the environmental review process. With that said, there has been an inexcusable lack of public notice and transparency. A project of this size and scope demands and deserves review and comment by elected representatives, residents, and community stakeholders. We take seriously our responsibility as the stewards of Ulster County's unique and amazing natural resources and will continue to advocate for their preservation and protection.

We appreciate your time.

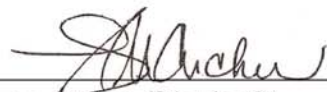

Sincerely,

Ulster County Clerk Recognizes National Donate Life Month

Kingston, NY - Ulster County Clerk Nina Postupack is partnering the Ulster County Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) with Donate Life New York State to recognize April as National Donate Life Month, an annual observance highlighting the critical need for increased organ, eye and tissue donation in New York State.

During the month of April, the Ulster County Clerk urges all residents to learn more about organ, eye and tissue donation and to say yes to donation while completing transactions at the DMV. Brochures, posters and enrollment forms will be on display in the lobby of the County Office Building throughout National Donate Life Month as a reminder of the importance of the gift of life. Stop by the table for more information and promotional items!

Nearly 9,000 New Yorkers are currently waiting for lifesaving organ transplant and 1,500 have been waiting for five years or longer. Each year, an estimated 400 men, women and children in New York State die because an organ does not become available in time.

Approximately 42% of New Yorkers are enrolled in the New York State Donate Life Registry, the electronic database that documents a person's consent to be an organ and tissue donor at the time of their death. While more than 6 million New Yorkers are registered donors, this represents the second lowest percentage of registered donors in the country. Ulster County residents are encouraged to make a difference and give hope to all those in need of a transplant by enrolling in the Registry at the DMV, where nearly 80% of donors sign up.

"The staff at the DMV engages with the public on this critical health issue more than any other agency," says Aisha Tator, Executive Director of Donate Life NYS. "The promotion of organ and tissue donation during Donate Life Month has a lasting impact on the number of registered donors and the lives that will be saved through transplantation."

"Ulster County is proud to be one of the counties throughout the state participating in this vital program," said Ulster County Clerk Nina Postupack. "Currently there are 75,835 Ulster County residents on the registry, accounting for 51.7% of total residents. It is my hope that by raising awareness, we can increase this number and promote saving lives by encouraging our fellow New Yorkers to say yes to being an organ or tissue donor."

All New Yorkers age 16 and older can enroll in the New York State Donor Registry, regardless of their medical history. The enrollment option is available on forms used to apply for or renew a driver license or non-driver identification card. New Yorkers can also enroll in the Registry while applying for health insurance through the New York State Department of Health and on voter registration forms. In addition, online enrollment is available at any time at donatelife.ny.gov/register.

Donate Life NYS is a non-profit organization comprised of organ and tissue recovery organizations, health professionals and individuals whose lives have been affected by donation. Their mission is to increase organ, eye and tissue donation in NYS through collaborative advocacy, education, promotion and research.

Learn more about National Donate Life Month and Donate Life NYS at donatelife.ny.gov. To make an appointment at the Ulster County DMV, please visit <https://clerk.ulstercountyny.gov/countyclerk/motor-vehicles> and click the "Make an Appointment" link.

Catskills Visitor Center Funding

(From Pg. 29)

In the short-term, this funding will assist the Catskill Center in continuing to develop online resources, programs and events to allow visitors to virtually visit the Catskill Park or to better plan their next in-person visit. In the longer term, this funding will help support on-site staffing and expanded programming, including new curriculum and activities for visiting school groups.

Environmental Protection Fund

The Environmental Protection Fund (EPF) will be funded at $300 million this year, including $30 million for new open space land protection projects, some of which could be in the Catskill Park.

Funding for "state land stewardship" increased slightly. This funding supports ongoing efforts to care for Catskill Park Forest Preserve lands and infrastructure, and could support shuttles, education, and other components of a strategic effort to manage visitor traffic to high-use areas in the Catskill Park. The funding could also support the recommendations of the Catskill Strategic Planning Advisory Group, of which the Catskill Center is a member, and who will produce recommendations to help manage areas of high-use by the end of 2021.

$13 million in funding for invasive species controls is available in the EPF. In the Catskills, these funds support efforts like the Catskill Center's Catskill Regional Invasive Species Partnership (CRISP) and the Invasive Species Strike Team.

The EPF includes $100,000 for the Catskill Science Collaborative at the Cary Institute of Ecosystem Studies, $500,000 for the Hemlock Woolly Adelgid Project at Cornell University, $1 million for Belleayre Mountain, $1,550,000 for Visitor Safety and Wilderness Protection in the Adirondack and Catskill Forest Preserves, and $2 million for community Smart Growth Grants in the Catskill and Adirondack Parks.

In addition to these specific categories, the EPF pays for open space, parks, solid waste and recycling facilities, environmental justice programs, and climate change mitigation/adaptation measures throughout the Catskills and across New York State.

Aid to Localities Funding

Thanks to the hard work and leadership of Senator Michelle Hinchey for the Catskills, $100,000 was secured for Catskill Park Stewardship under the Aid to Localities Funding. This funding is directed to the Catskill Center and to Catskill Mountainkeeper to expand the number of seasonal Catskill Stewards in high-use areas across Catskills.

Environmental Bond Act

Included in the Budget is a historic $3 billion Environmental Bond Act, which will provide funding for key investments in local infrastructure and environmental restoration. These investments will help communities across New York prepare for flooding, rising seas, and dangerous extreme heat. The bond act will go to voters for approval on the ballot in November of 2022.

Assemblymember Kevin A. Cahill Offers Statement on the Final 2021-22 State Budget

“The guiding principle of the Assembly was to deliver a spending plan that sets New York on the right track to pandemic recovery, invests in a green economy, funds primary education and ensures the wellbeing of our most vulnerable neighbors. With the assistance of a generous stimulus package under the leadership of President Joe Biden and Senate Majority Leader Chuck Schumer, we responsibly allocated these monies to secure their best use.

Rather approve a prescription of austerity rife with cuts to services needed now more than ever, we put forth a budget that extends programs to assure that those requiring assistance will get it. We included record funding for schools and provided support for municipalities, mental and child healthcare, public universities and increased environmental protections.

During this process, my office met with constituents and advocacy groups to listen to their concerns about what should be included in the State Budget. This package, while far from perfect, represents a responsible approach to our unique times. As we conclude, I remain committed to advocating for the many issues facing our families and neighbors.”

Cahill: Budget Advances Key Health Reforms

The final state budget includes several measures that will make healthcare more accessible and affordable to all New Yorkers including funding for the Entertainment Workers Demonstration Program, Community Health Advocates, Spinal Cord Injury Research Program and other important services. Assemblymember Kevin A. Cahill (D-Ulster, Dutchess) has served as a lead advocate for these initiatives for several years and his support was more important than ever during a year of heightened hardships surrounding medical treatment and coverage.

Entertainment workers are uniquely susceptible to inadequate healthcare coverage. Due to the often-extensive travel requirements, the specific nature of work-related injuries and the growing lack of participating mental healthcare providers, entertainment workers need to have access to out-of-network healthcare. The legislature has approved over $2 million in funding for the Entertainment Workers Demonstration Program, which provides the Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act, commonly referred to as COBRA subsidies to out of work members of the entertainment industry.

“This modest subsidy prevents the uncertainty and healthcare vulnerability which can arise from continually having to alternate between private insurance and the Exchange, particularly during this time when the industry has been shuttered,” said Assemblymember Cahill.

“On behalf of our members in New York, we are so grateful to Assemblymember Cahill for this much-needed aid to cover COBRA and allow our workers to stay on union insurance,” said Kate Shindle, President of the Actors' Equity Association, “Equity stage managers and actors earn their health insurance one week of work at a time, and many of them have been unemployed for over a year. The theatre industry is just beginning to return, but we're a long way from normal, and this program is critical.”

SAG-AFTRA is thrilled that New York has continued, and expanded, their COBRA Coverage for Eligible Entertainment Industry Employees Program through 2022. Our industry was hard hit by the pandemic and this program is a bridge for our members to stay covered under our Health Plan until the industry fully recovers. We thank Assemblymember Cahill, Speaker Heastie, Assemblymember Joyner, Assemblymember O'Donnell and Assemblymember Gottfried for their tireless efforts to get this done,” said Rebecca Damon, New York President of SAG-AFTRA.

Additionally included in the final spending plan is $4,109,000 for Community Health Advocates (CHA), who can continue to provide guidance and valuable educational resources for consumers who need help navigating the healthcare system. CHA assists over 30,000 New Yorkers every year in reducing overburdening medical arrears, which is one of the fastest sources of growing debt in the country.

The Legislature has stood firm in its commitment to funding the Spinal Cord Injury Research Program (SCIRP) despite repeated attempts by the governor to decimate its resources. By allocating $8,500,000 to SCIRP for the 2021-22 Fiscal Year, this will allow New York to remain the global leader in the field of spinal research and development of key breakthroughs in wearable exoskeleton technology.

“We thank Assemblymember Cahill and the Legislature for restoring funding for the Spinal Cord Injury Research Program. Since its inception, SCIRP has made significant advancements towards a cure for paralysis and other neurological impairments. Renewed funding will allow us to continue this critical work and give hope to thousands of New Yorkers,” said Nancy Lieberman of New Yorkers to Cure Paralysis.

“The last year has illustrated the role to which health care access serves in preventing or overcoming emergencies. The funding associated with these organizations is incorporated daily to the lives of the public, allowing folks to best utilize the many resources New York has to offer. There is no reason to which any resident of this State should be faced with the decision to feed their families or visit a Doctor. By funding these common-sense programs and research, New Yorkers can better understand their coverage, receive available relief and avoid skipping out on necessary appointments,” concluded Cahill.

State Budget Includes Funds for Programs & Services in Dutchess & Ulster Counties

The Assembly today approved the final budget for FY 2021-2022, which includes much needed funding for several indispensable organizations in Ulster and Dutchess Counties. As a result of advocacy from Assemblymember Kevin A. Cahill (D-Ulster, Dutchess) and his colleagues, the budget ensures that essential local programs and services can continue to operate and serve the needs of the community.

Local organizations receiving funding through the budget this year include:

Agribusiness Child Development

The Legislature has approved $9,300,000 in funding for Agribusiness Child Development (ABCD). The organization provides quality childcare and early education to the infants and small children of agricultural workers across the state, with locations in New Paltz and Kingston. Assemblyman Cahill has long been a champion of ABCD and their efforts to support farm workers and their families.

Maggie M. Evans, ABCD CEO said, “Assemblyman Cahill is a longstanding champion for ABCD's programs and services. He is tenacious in his work to secure funding for the children and families of NYS agriculture, including the ABCD centers in Kingston and New Paltz. We are tremendously grateful for his support! We are thrilled that the NYS Legislature has prioritized agriculture, early childhood education, health, and mental wellness. These are investments in the future that will pay dividends for generations to come.” (Contd. Pg. 36)

Assemblymember Kevin A. Cahill Offers Statement on the Final 2021-22 State Budget

Legal Services of the Hudson Valley

The enacted budget allocates $151,667 to Legal Services of the Hudson Valley (LSHV). In the last year LSHV has greatly increased its caseload and provided thousands of Hudson Valley residents with much needed legal representation. This funding will go toward projects related to domestic violence.

Catskill Center

The final budget includes $150,000 for the Maurice Hinchey Catskill Visitor Center. As the gateway to our region, this facility provides locals and tourists alike with the necessary information to safely recreate in the Catskills. The Center also hosts dozens of educational programming on the flora, fauna and ecological health of our open spaces.

Belleayre Mountain Ski Center

Belleayre Mountain Ski Center has been allocated $1,000,000 in the state budget for necessary facility upgrades. These funds will ensure that Belleayre remains a premier Catskill recreation area.

Astor Services

Astor Services received $225,000 in this year's budget to fund their programs geared toward helping children. For years, this nonprofit has provided children and their families with mental health, child-welfare and child development services.

Cary Institute

The enacted budget includes $100,000 for the Cary Institute of Ecosystem Studies, which has long served as the centerpiece of cooperative environmental research in the Hudson Valley. Through the Catskill Science Collaborative, the institute awards grants to fund the study the ecological health of our region and host educational presentations about our local environment.

"The Cary Institute of ecosystem Studies thanks Assemblymember Cahill for his support in securing critical funding for this five-year investment to understand how to reduce instances of tickborne diseases," Dr. Joshua Ginsberg, President of the Cary Institute of Ecosystem Studies.

Public Utility Law Project

The State Budget allocates $1,070,000 to the Public Utility Law Project (PULP) for their continued work in advocating for utility consumers. PULP works to protect tenants and their families from utility shut offs, service denials and other unscrupulous practices, and advocates for low income gas and electric rates for consumers.

"A huge thank you and congratulations to Assemblymember Kevin Cahill for succeeding once again in securing vital funding for the Public Utility Law Project ("PULP") in the New York State Budget," said Richard Berkley, Executive Director of PULP. "We are busier than ever in energy and water rate cases across the state, and PULP's advocacy for low-income and fixed-income utility consumer rights was more important in the first year of the COVID-19 pandemic than it has been in many years. We are grateful to Assemblymember Cahill, the Assembly and Senate for increasing our support as we fight to maintain consumers' access to water and energy despite the crushing arrears afflicting the Hudson Valley, while working to create access to affordable broadband."

"As we continue to deal with a global pandemic, worsening climate change and dramatic economic inequality, our local community groups are more important than ever," said Assemblymember Cahill. "It has been a difficult year for New York. But when times are tough the programs and services provided by many Ulster and Dutchess county organizations help keep many from falling through the cracks. I applaud their efforts and am very pleased that this budget provides them well deserved funding."

Illegal Burning Contributing to Numerous Brush Fires

Monticello, NY - With departments across the region scrambling to contain 31 brush fires in just the last month, Sullivan County Fire Coordinator John Hauschild is re-emphasizing the fact that a burn ban is in effect through May 14

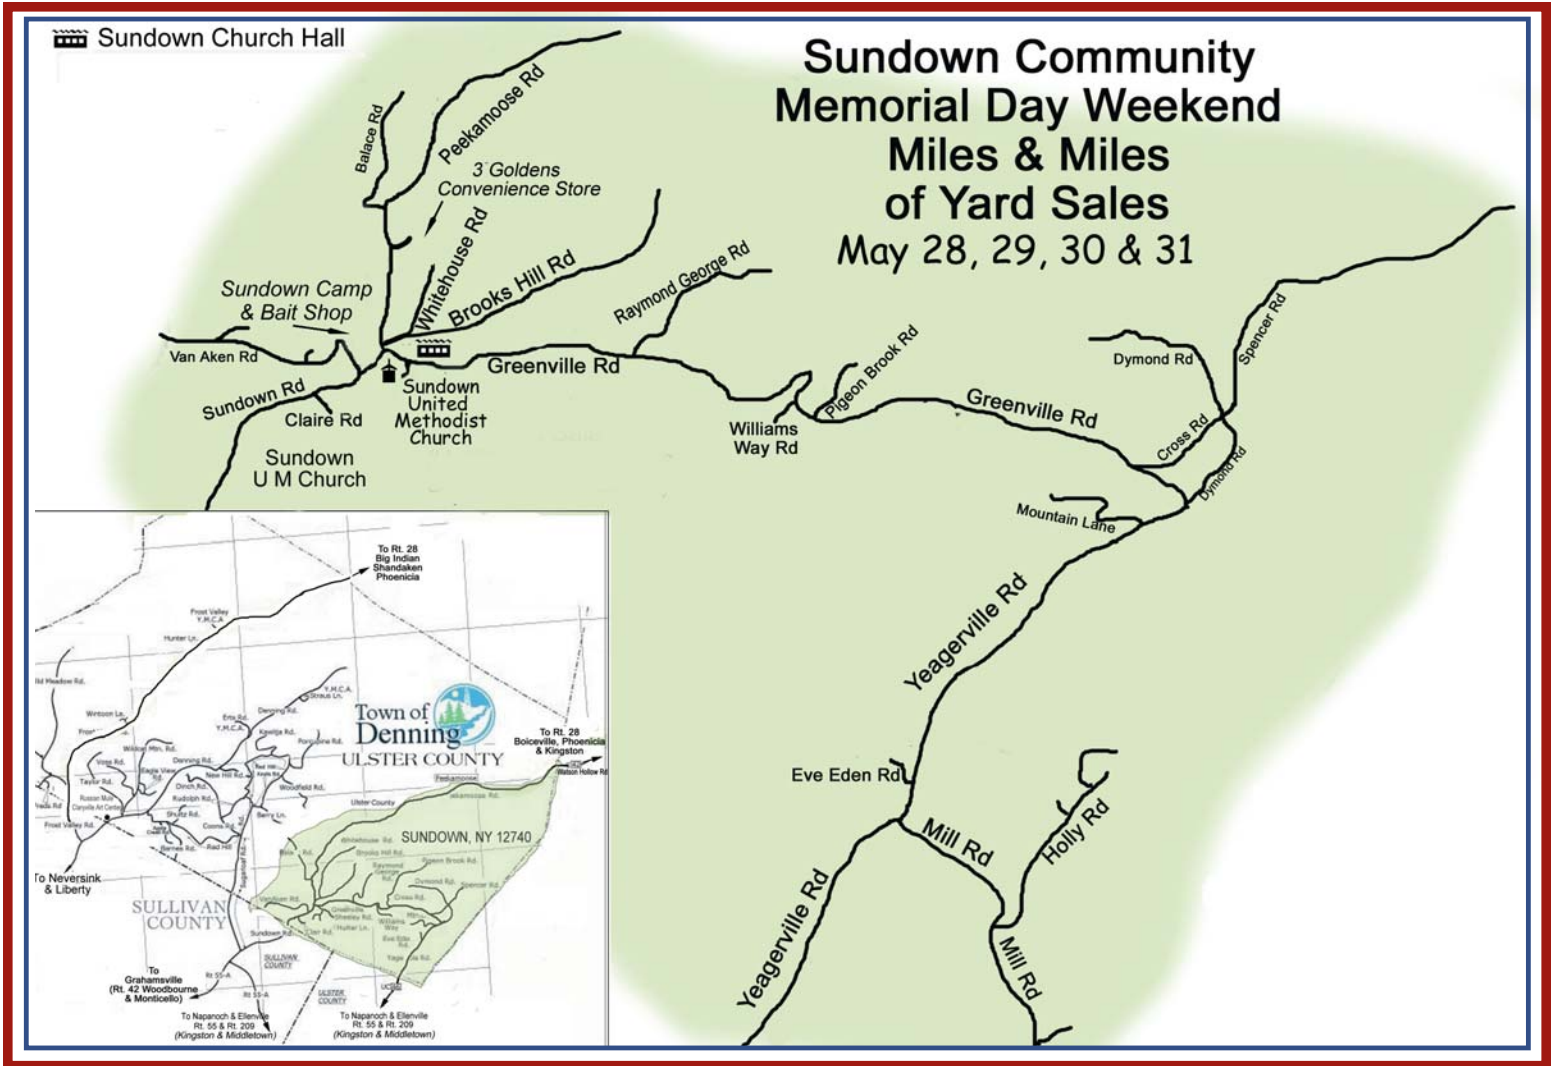

"The snow is gone and temperatures are rising, but vegetation is still dry and easily set aflame by sparks and ash -

which is exactly how every one of these brush fires was ignited," he explained. "There is a statewide ban on open burning through mid-May, and I cannot stress enough the need to follow it - no exceptions.

For details on the burn ban, visit the NYS Department of Environmental Conservation's website at <http://www.dec.ny.gov/chemical/58519.html>.

Were it not for the rapid response of the Westbrookville Volunteer Fire Company earlier this month, this structure would likely have gone up in flames due to a brush fire that was so perilously close, it melted the building's siding. ## DEC Announces Winner of Annual Arbor Day Artwork Contest

New York State Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC) Commissioner Basil Seggos today announced that Dave Marshall, from the Monroe County town of Webster, is the winner of DEC's annual Arbor Day Artwork Contest.

Photograph by Dave Marshall of Webster, NY. Selected for 2021 State Arbor Day Poster

"Over the past year, all of us have been reminded how important trees and green spaces are to our mental and physical wellbeing," said Commissioner Seggos. "This Arbor Day, DEC encourages all New Yorkers to celebrate the trees in their communities. Whether visiting the backyard, local park, or nearby State Forest, I encourage you to safely get outside to appreciate the countless benefits urban and rural trees provide us. Congratulations to Dave Marshall for taking this year's honor in capturing the beauty and magnificence of New York's trees."

DEC's annual Arbor Day Artwork Contest accepts artwork and photography submissions of trees in New York State. The winning poster design is featured on the State's official Arbor Day poster and is selected by a committee comprised of representatives from DEC, New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets, International Paper, Empire State Forest Products Association, and the New York State Arborist Association. Marshall's design stood out among 324 submissions for successfully capturing the charismatic and inspirational qualities of trees. Posters are available at regional DEC Forestry offices.

Arbor Day is a nationally celebrated observance held on the last Friday of April each year. Originally established in 1872 to encourage farmers and homesteaders to plant trees for shade, fuel, and beauty in open areas, today Arbor Day is an opportunity to celebrate the vital role of trees in our lives.

While some traditional Arbor Day ceremonies are postponed to reduce the potential spread of COVID-19, there are many ways communities and families can celebrate Arbor Day while practicing social distancing. Visit DEC's website for ideas about how to celebrate Arbor Day 2021 on April 30 safely and responsibly.

The annual State Arbor Day Poster contest is announced each September and runs through December. Those interested in participating in the 2022 contest should visit DEC's website for more information.

Arrest Made in Fatal Hit and Run

On Saturday April 10, 2021 at about 9:45 PM Deputies were called to 2642 State Route 52 in the Town of Liberty for a report of a car/pedestrian accident. At the scene deputies found Dennis Toscano, 60, deceased on the shoulder of the highway. He was pronounced dead by Sullivan County Coroner Michael Speer.

The investigation revealed that the victim was unloading groceries from his car when a vehicle, traveling westbound towards White Sulphur Springs, struck him and fled the scene.

Detectives found pieces from a Subaru Legacy at the scene which led them to 34 year old Joseph Maxwell, Jr. of Liberty. Maxwell was taken into custody Sunday evening at his residence on Eagle Drive.

The District Attorney's Office prepared a search warrant which Sheriff's Detectives executed at the suspect's residence early Monday morning. A 2012 Subaru Legacy with a smashed windshield and front end damage was recovered from the garage. Maxwell was charged with the class D Felony of Leaving the Scene of a Fatal Motor Vehicle Accident.

He was arraigned Monday morning before Town of Liberty Judge Harold Bauman and sent to the Sullivan County Jail in lieu of $50,000 bail.

Sheriff Mike Schiff said that the investigation is continuing and that additional charges are being considered. He thanked the public for the confidential tips that came to his office in during the investigation. Sheriff's deputies were assisted by the Liberty Fire Department, NY State Police uniform and BCI members, Village of Liberty Police, District Attorney's investigators and State DOT.
