DAYS OF YORE...

...Today's History

April 27, 1949

Eleven Ulster Heights farmers may continue to send their milk to the Shawangunk Cooperative Dairies at Kysyerike, rather than to Bullville Creamery in Orange County, under a decision of Supreme Court Justice Michael Walsh. Approximately one and a half tons of milk per day from the eleven farms we involved.

Mr. Bruce Fuller of Grahamsville has completed wiring the Henry TerBush home for electricity.

Jim and Albert Dymond were the first 'searches' to reach Prof. Eigou, the 'lost' fisherman last Tuesday afternoon, although a plane had sighted him about half an hour earlier. The Prof. got lost in the dense and confusing Spruce Swamp at Greenville, where many a native has met his Waterloo. The boys escorted him to Lundy's Lodge at Brownsville about three miles further down stream. From there he was taken home by auto and a State Trooper brought the boys back to Greenville. The Dymond brothers were quite surprised on Wednesday to find their names on the front page of the NY Herald Tribune.

National Children's Book Week
Read Now - Read Forever

The Ramapo Catskill Library System (RCLS) is pleased to endorse celebrations taking place in observance of the 100th Annual National Children's Book Week, April 29 - May 5, 2019. This observance encourages young people to discover the complexity of the world beyond their own experiences through books. Local libraries in our area are dedicated to spreading the word about children's literature and encouraging children to learn the joys that reading provides.

National Children's Book Week is a time-honored tradition. Each year, Children's Book Week is celebrated nationally in schools, libraries, bookstores, clubs, private homes - anyplace where there are children and books. All kinds of people are involved - librarians, teachers, parents, booksellers, artists, authors, publishers - and they devote a great deal of time and energy to making National Children's Book Week an exciting and happy period of discovery for children.

"Our local libraries provide a wonderful environment and resource for facilitating and encouraging reading," explained Joanna Goldfarb, RCLS Youth Services Consultant. "Book Week brings us together to talk about books and to put the cause of children's reading squarely before the whole community and across the whole nation. A great nation is a reading nation."

A Round About Tri-Valley

- Carol Furman

Condolences to the family and friends of Robert A. Mierop, Sn, of Grahamsville who passed away on April 13th at the age of 88. Cremation was private with no services as he requested.

A graveside memorial service was held for Shirley Rose "Edwards" Samyn at the Grahamsville Rural Cemetery at 11:30 am on Saturday, April 20, 2019. Shirley, who was born and raised in Neversink, passed away on February 8th at the age of 81.

A celebration of the life of John "Jack" Clark, formerly of Aden, will be held for family and friends on Saturday, May 11th at 11:00 am at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Liberty. A luncheon will follow at the church after the service. Jack passed away on November 15th, 2018, and is fondly remembered for his service to the Town of Neversink, the Daniel Pierce Library, the Tri-Valley Lions Club, the Time and the Valleys Museum and St. Paul's Lutheran Church. A true gentleman, he was always there to help whenever there was a need.

The Grahamsville Reformed Church served 167 at their Roast Pork Dinner which was held on April 13th.

I told you last week that I would let you know how the Tri-Valley Track and Field Invitational turned out. The event went off "without a hitch" on April 13th...a beautiful, warm day! Thirteen school districts participated in the track and field events. The Tri-Valley Boys track and field team, one of eight teams participating in Division II, placed 1st with a score of 135, fending off second place Liberty, who had a score of 57.8. Pine Bush won for Division I, which is for larger school districts.

According to an article in the AARP Newsletter, you can add your name to the National Do Not Call Registry to help cut down on the number of "scam calls" you receive. While it may not block all calls, it can help reduce the number of "unwanted" calls. The # to call if you want to register is 888-382-1222 or go to donotcall.gov. The article went on to say, if you do receive a "robocall", do not respond, just hang up. If you do happen to respond, never say the word "YES" as that word could be recorded and used by someone else to authorize fraudulent charges over the phone. I had someone call me the other day and the first thing they said was, "Hello, can you hear me?" They wanted me to respond with the word "YES". It's a shame you can't even answer your phone without having to fret about receiving these unsolicited robocalls which always seem to arrive while you are eating, when your hands are wet or perhaps even when you are in the bathroom!

Don't Forget: April 27, May 1, 4 & 8: Town of Neversink residents with "Purple" permits may bring up to 2 loads to the transfer station for spring clean-up. Please take advantage of this opportunity and help keep our Town nice and neat and a place to be proud of.

Tri-Valley Lions Journey For Sight, which will take place at the Town of Neversink Ball Fields, on May 4 at 9:00 am.

Tri-Valley Boy Scout Fish/Chicken and Chips Dinner at the Neversink Fire House on May 11 from 4:30 - 6:30 pm

Grahamsville Reformed Church Turkey Dinner on May 18 from 4:00 - 7:00 pm

Nature Column - Linda Comando

A tribute to the memory of all of the Townsman Ladies that we have lost and loved so much... Peggy DeWire, Avril Pappa, Joan Hall, Polly Hill, Joyce Lockhart, Jean Helthaler, Karen Curry and Barbara Slater.

Last week as we were out-and-about, we saw a beautiful Red-tailed Hawk fly over and land on a wire alongside of the highway which prompted us to watch the skies in Sundown. Sure enough, this past weekend we watched while a pair of Red-tailed Hawks flew overhead. We watched for a while as they made wide spirals about 1,500 to 2,000 feet above us. Eventually the pair descended low enough that we could see they were about 20 inches long with wingspans of 40 to 50 inches. We could see their light-colored breasts speckled with dark spots and their red tail feathers. Red-tailed Hawks are large, stocky birds that will live in forests near open country.

Their nests are usually built near the edge of a stream, lake, or field.

The Red-tailed Hawk, one of North America's most widespread and common hawks, has excellent eyesight and can spot a mouse from a height of 100 feet.

They will also hunt from perches, usually alongside a field. Most of their prey is small mammals, including: mice, voles, shrews, moles, squirrels, chipmunks, rats, rabbits, opossum. Although they eat mostly mammals, there is a great variety of other animals Red-tailed Hawks will prey upon, including: snakes, turtles, frogs, lizards, salamanders, toads, ducks, bobwhite, crows, woodpeckers, starlings, doves, Red-winged Blackbirds, kingfishers, robins, owls, other birds, crayfish, centipedes, spiders, grasshoppers, crickets, beetles, earthworms, and fish. Red-tailed hawks swallow smaller prey whole while larger prey are killed with talons, and then pulled into pieces with the hawk's sharp, hooked beak.

Red-tailed Hawks throw up pellets. When they swallow prey whole, they regurgitate (throw up) small balls of hair, feathers, and bone.

Red-tailed Hawks will steal from other raptors, such as eagles, owls, or other hawks. Mated Red-tailed Hawks will sometimes work together while hunting. An example might be chasing a squirrel around a tree until one of the hawks can catch it.

Red-tailed Hawks will also eat road kill and other carrion (previously dead, but fairly fresh animals) muskrats, cats, skunks, and bats.

Red-tailed Hawks mate in the spring when they perform a sort of courtship "dance" where the male and female dive and roll in the sky. They will even lock talons (sharp toes) and fall together awhile before splitting apart. Red-tailed hawks breed for life, although a partner is soon replaced if it dies.

Both adults cooperate to build a nest in the crown of a tall tree such as an oak or pine, or a rock ledge, which gives them a commanding view of the landscape. Pairs may also simply repair a nest used during previous seasons. The nest is a tall pile of dry sticks, with the inner layer lined with bark strips, fresh foliage, and dry vegetation.

Nests are built with sticks and lined with twigs, bark shreds, pine needles, and green plant material. The female hawk lays two or three white eggs with brown spots that are incubated for 28 to 35 days. While the female warms the eggs the male hunts and feeds her. The chicks fledge at 42 to 48 days, but stay with the adults for a further 30 to 70 days before becoming fully independent.

Once they leave the nest, the youngsters hop around a lot on the ground, looking for small prey such as insects and spiders. When they have perfected flying, they will begin to hunt larger prey from the air.

Most red-tailed hawks first breed at two years of age. Also known as a Chicken Hawk, Red-tailed Hawks are very territorial. They will chase other Red-tailed Hawks and birds larger than them that get too close. Predators of Red-tailed Hawks include Raccoons, Great Horned Owls, and Red Fox. Red-tailed Hawks can live up to 15 years in the wild.

Whenever you hear a raptor call on a TV commercial or in a movie, it is most likely a Red-tailed Hawk's call.

Wolf Pack

Mysterious Book Report No. 370

by John Dwaine McKenna

Unlike most of the rest of our squared-off western states that're all of a sudden filling up with folks fleeing from overcrowded, overtaxed and overregulated places to the east and west of them, Wyoming is still windswept, wide-open and mostly rural. It has some of the most spectacular scenery and most magnificent wild game and fish anywhere on earth. It's a place where one can still stretch out, breath free . . . and get lost. Disappear and not be found. But Wyoming also has rules and regulations, as well as law and order, which is where a fictional Wyoming Game Warden named Joe Pickett comes in. He's the kind of man we all aspire to be: kind; true to his ideals of family and career and country; pragmatic; altruistic; idealistic; tough, brave and dedicated. He's a confidant and trusted ally of the retired Wyoming governor . . . the adversary of the sitting one . . . and as such, he's had more hairy adventures than Indiana Jones.

Now, in his latest – and twentieth tale – Wolf Pack, (Putnam/Penguin/Random House, $27.00, 370 pages, ISBN 978-0-525-53819-6) by C.J. Box, Joe Pickett has his hands full. He's got his job and seniority back, had all of his back pay restored . . . has a newer, larger and better house . . . even a brand new pickup truck, all issued to him by the Wyoming Division of Wildlife. He'd lost everything in his last adventure, The Disappeared, but was restored, thanks to a spirited pro bono defense by the retired governor.

But now, Pickett has a new problem. Someone has been using a large, professional drone equipped with cameras to stampede and kill winter weakened elk and mule deer. When Pickett and a neighboring game warden track the drone operator down, they're confronted by the FBI and the DOJ and told to stand down – drop the case – on the grounds of National Security interests. When he's told that “millions could die” by the officious, secretive and pushy Feds, it arouses Pickett's suspicions and he vows to get to the bottom of it all. Then, as if that wasn't enough to deal with, a legendary team of assassins, known as the Wolf Pack, has slinked into the small town of Saddlestring. They've been sent in by the Sinaloa drug cartel and the body count is climbing into epic numbers, thrusting Pickett and his allies into the most violent and deadly confrontation he's ever encountered. Author C.J. Box is at the top of his game in this irresistible and chilling thriller!

Sullivan County Planning for Measles Prevention, Education, and Clinics

Liberty, NY - In light of the ongoing measles outbreaks in New York City and Rockland County, Sullivan County is preparing for the summer months when there is a large influx of visitors and second home-owners.

As of April 11, there are 180 confirmed reported cases of measles in Rockland County. In New York City, there have been 285 confirmed cases since the outbreak began in October 2018; 21 of those cases led to hospitalizations.

Measles is extremely contagious, and about 90% of unvaccinated people exposed to the virus will become infected.

Sullivan County Public Health Services staff have been meeting with area healthcare providers, school officials, first responders and hospital staff to discuss preparations to limit the spread of measles in the coming months.

“The single most important thing we can all do to protect the community is to remain up-to-date with measles vaccination, ensure that summer camps, day cares, and schools abide by immunization requirements, and that our healthcare providers are prepared to isolate any ill patients quickly with proper infection control policies and procedures,” said Public Health Director Nancy McGraw. “A larger meeting with community leaders and healthcare providers will be held later this month.”

Two confirmed cases in Sullivan County were reported March 14, and since then, Public Health staff have been conducting investigations on several additional residents who were exposed to individuals from NYC who were positive for measles. These individuals are being monitored for symptoms.

“We ask that if you become ill with a fever, rash, or conjunctivitis (red watery eyes), help protect our community by staying home, not having visitors, and not going out in public,” McGraw added. “To further prevent the spread of illness, the Department is advising individuals who have symptoms consistent with measles to contact their healthcare provider, a local clinic, or a local emergency department before going for care. This will help to prevent others at these facilities from being exposed to the illness.”

In particular, Sullivan County Public Health Services strongly recommends that summer camp owners and directors, visitors, parents and guardians review the vaccination status of campers, employees and children.

The single best way to prevent measles is to be vaccinated. Individuals should receive 2 doses of MMR (Measles, Mumps, Rubella) vaccine to be protected. If a person is unsure if they are immune, they should contact their healthcare provider. The first dose should be given at 12-15 months of age and the second dose at 4 to 6 years of age (age of school entry).

In New York State, measles immunization is required of children enrolled in schools, daycare, and pre-kindergarten. Since August 1990, college students have also been required to demonstrate immunity against measles. If your family is traveling overseas, the vaccine recommendations are a little different, and you should discuss with your health care provider or visit www.cdc.gov/measles/about/parents-top4.html

“We have reinforced the importance for all healthcare providers to immediately report all cases of suspect measles to the Sullivan County Public Health Communicable Disease Program staff by calling (845) 292-5910 during normal business hours and after hours/weekends,” said McGraw.

Sullivan County Public Health Services offers free vaccine clinics for children who are uninsured or have Medicaid on the second Wednesday each month from 5-7 p.m. at 50 Community Lane, Gladys Olmsted Building, Liberty. No appointment is necessary.

Residents can get more information about measles by calling the Public Health Information Line at 845-513-2268 or the New York State Department of Health toll-free Measles Information Line at (888) 364-4837.

Take Charge of Your Health Back by Popular Request!! Dr. Fuhrman Presents Fast Food Genocide: How Processed Food is Killing Us and What We Can Do About It

[FERNDALE] - Sullivan 180 welcomes Dr. Joel Fuhrman, board-certified family physician, nutritional researcher and six-time New York Times best-selling author, as guest speaker for the bi-monthly Take Charge of Your Health Series. Dr. Fuhrman serves as the President of the Nutritional Research Foundation and is on the faculty of Northern Arizona University, Health Science Division and has been featured on PBS, the Dr. Oz Show, Good Morning America and the Today Show. He is an advocate for making healthy choices the easy choice and increasing access to fresh produce in food deserts. He will focus on the topic of his most recent book, Fast Food Genocide.

In his presentation, Dr. Fuhrman will describe the serious health risks associated with processed and fast food consumption, even from occasional use. These “Frankenfoods” do not merely contribute to chronic diseases such as high blood pressure and diabetes but increase death from heart disease and cancer. The high fat, sugar and sodium content of fast and processed foods also impair the human brain contributing to depression, and can create food addiction, leading to excessive caloric intake and obesity. Dr. Fuhrman will discuss healthy food choices that effectively prevent cancer, heart disease and dementia. He recommends a plant based “nutritarian” diet that includes nutrient dense foods, fruits, vegetables, whole grains, beans, seeds and nuts. While Dr. Fuhrman gives guidance on how individuals can improve their diets, his message is also about the importance for communities to understand the dangers of a culture that promotes fast food and processed foods instead of a diet that nourishes our bodies and minds.

The event will be held on Monday, April 22, 2019 at 5:30 p.m. in the Event Gallery at Bethel Woods Center for the Arts. A book signing will follow. Free bus transportation is available at 4:30 p.m. from the Government Center (North Street side) in Monticello.

The informative and inspiring evening will include healthy refreshments and a book signing with Dr. Fuhrman. The event is free, but registration is required. To register visit <https://bit.ly/2W286tw> or call the Sullivan 180 office at (845)295-2680.

Sullivan 180's mission is to build a healthy, vibrant Sullivan County where everyone has a sense of purpose, connection to family and community and access to fresh foods and an active lifestyle.

The Olive Jar - By Carol Olsen LaMonda

The Pink Blue Moon

Tonight is a rare pink glowing moon that will fall on a blue moon, the second full moon that falls in one month. It is also Passover and Easter celebrations. As I dressed this morning in my jeans and tee shirt, I thought back to my childhood celebrations.

As a child, I remember getting three new outfits a year. I must have gotten others because I never recall being naked, but we only shopped for going-back-to-school outfit, a Christmas outfit and an Easter outfit. The Easter outfit was the best because it was ACCESSORIZED. No dress was complete without a Fleece Topper, white cotton gloves, white ankle socks and black patent Mary Jane shoes.

We would always go to church and then to my Norwegian grandparents for the day. We would bring a hyacinth plant to my Nana who always said, "Bring me flowers while I can smell them." Each year now I buy hyacinth plants and plant them in a garden after they have bloomed, and each spring I am treated to a few dozen, mostly purple, fragrant plants to remind me of the message of rebirth and resurrection.

I also remember dying eggs with my family. There were multi-colored eggs for the Easter Egg basket and solid red ones (red for the blood of Christ) to be used in the Greek Easter Egg contest where the person won If their egg didn't crack when bonked against another person's red egg. I still dye eggs even though my children are pushing middle age. The week after Easter we have an abundance of egg salad and deviled egg dishes.

I also love watching my granddaughter at the Bushkill Rod and Gun Club Easter egg hunt. Turning nine, this may be the last one we go to. I am not sure how coloring eggs to go into an Easter basket, a reminder of the pagan fertility of the earth, got made into chocolate bunnies and jelly beans, but even my twenty-something granddaughter looks forward to her basket of candy treats.

Nowadays the Easter menu is an eclectic blend of all the nationalities of a fourth generation family of Italian, Polish, Danish, French, Greek, Norwegian, English, and Argentine heritage. The traditional ham dinner is enhanced with lamb, bread with red-dyed eggs, Avelegmono (egg and lemon soup), lasagne, flan, glumpkies, pirogies and kielbasa. It is a veritable feast of culinary delights usually served in a United Nations potluck buffet.

Tonight I am going to attend my first Seder. Last year I had mentioned to Tim Cox, our local Town Justice, that I had never been to one, and this year he remembered to invite me to his family's tradition. Since I am their guest, I feel I should bring something. Perhaps a hyacinth plant for his wife Rebecca, but I do want to bring something for his children. Do you think they make Kosher jelly beans?

Allow me a personal note:

The past 18 months of being involved with MUSIC ON MARKET have been an exciting time for me in Ellenville. After first approaching St. John's Jeff Gollither and MISU's Anastasia Solberg, when I offered my marketing/advertising/PR experience on a pro bono basis two years ago, it's been my pleasure to help re-brand and market MUSIC ON MARKET celebrating the greater Ellenville area's rich ethnic tapestry and bring live music to the southwest corner of Ulster County.

Securing sponsors to the tune of $13,000 (pun intended) to fund, promote and produce an entirely new series of concerts was a challenge, but we were rewarded by seating more than 1,100 people and breaking even, what I would call a first-year success.

This year, Slam Allen's kick-off concert was another wonderful beginning to what we hope will be another successful season. Thank you for your continuing support. That said this is my cue to exit left.

As a solo marketing/PR consultant for the past 20 years serving firms that serve Wall Street banks, trading platforms and vendors, I gained a reputation in working with start-ups and emerging tech firms, growing them to a point where they could move their marketing communications, PR and new business development programs inside...just as it's time for MUSIC ON MARKET to continue moving forward on what I believe is a strong enough foundation.

My work is done.

I'm pleased with what Reverend Jeff and Anastasia have accomplished with my assistance and look forward to seeing you continue to support their efforts for the greater Ellenville area.

Always remember: LIVE MUSIC MATTERS.

Thank you for your support in 2018 and 2019. It has been a wonderful personal experience. "See you around the quad..."

Warm regards
Marty Rabkin

Shadowland Stages Announces

35th Anniversary Season

Following on the heels of last season's North American premiere John Cleese play, BANG BANG! new season features first ever "Rolling World Premiere" as a part of the National New Play Network and other regional premieres - cementing SHADOWLAND's reputation as the region's place for new plays.

(17 April 2019) SHADOWLAND STAGES (Brendan Burke, Producing Artistic Director) today announced its exciting 35th Anniversary Season of new plays at the region's premier professional Actors' Equity theatre.

MEMOIRS OF A FORGOTTEN MAN by D.W. Gregory – MAY 31st - JUNE 16th

Set to preview MAY 31ST and play through JUNE 16th (with a June 1st 8pm Opening Night) is a new play by D.W. Gregory, MEMOIRS OF A FORGOTTEN MAN. Based on true events, D.W.'s drama marks SHADOWLAND's first production as a member of the prestigious National New Play Network; an alliance of this country's finest theatres - all of whom are dedicated to developing new work. MEMOIRS chronicles the tale of Alexei S., a Soviet journalist with perfect memory. Seen as a threat by Stalin's propaganda machine, a government censor investigates a study of Alexei before it is published. Haunting and suspenseful, MEMOIRS is a timely reminder of the power of facts. . . and fiction.

Regarding SHADOWLAND's selection for the National New Play Network, Producing Artistic Director Brendan Burke said "We are honored to join the membership of this important organization. SHADOWLAND STAGES has a long history of embracing new works. The new resources that the Network provides us will be invaluable to our mission, and our being granted membership is a flattering recognition of our work."

THE ROOMMATE by Jen Silverman – JUNE 21st - JULY 14th

Jen Silverman's thoughtful comedy, THE ROOMMATE, then begins previews on JUNE 21st and opens JUNE 22nd - to run through JULY 14th. When Iowan empty-nester Sharon decides that it's time to take on a roommate, Robyn (a stranger from the Bronx) answers the call. Together this mismatched couple re-invent themselves in a delightful story of later-in-life transformation.

SHEAR MADNESS by Paul Porter – JULY 19th - AUGUST 18th

The comedy centerpiece of the season is the classic whodunit SHEAR MADNESS. Running almost exclusively in Boston and Washington, D.C. for 30 years, SHADOWLAND is thrilled to stage the show for our region. In the madcap mystery of SHEAR MADNESS, a murder is committed, and you (the audience) get to spot the clues, question the suspects, and ultimately solve the funniest mystery in the annals of crime. SHEAR MADNESS will begin previews on JULY 19th, open on JULY 20th and run through AUGUST 18th.

OVER THE RIVER AND THROUGH THE WOODS by Joe DiPietro – AUGUST 23rd - SEPT 8th

Later in August, the laughs continue with Joe DiPietro's heartwarming comedy, OVER THE RIVER AND THROUGH THE WOODS set for previews on AUGUST 23rd with an AUGUST 24th Opening and running through SEPTEMBER 8TH. When their favorite grandchild receives a great job offer on the

FLINT by Jeff Daniels – SEPTEMBER 13th - SEPTEMBER 29th

Come September, SHADOWLAND STAGES is thrilled to produce the newest play by actor/playwright Jeff Daniels, FLINT. SHADOWLAND produced his play GUEST ARTIST in 2010, starring John Astin. Daniels' new play FLINT is a tough and honest portrayal of two couples (one black and one white), neighbors who have seen their lives greatly diminished 2 1/2 years after losing their jobs at the auto plant. Their lives and relationships unravel as they lose their grip on the chance at the American Dream. And it all comes to a head on a Friday evening in September of 2014, six weeks before the State of Michigan announced a problem with the city's water. FLINT begins previews SEPTEMBER 13th, opens on SEPTEMBER 14th and will run through SEPTEMBER 29th.

CRY IT OUT by Molly Smith Metzler – OCTOBER 4th - OCTOBER 20th

Then the regular season will finish with the heart-felt and hilarious CRY IT OUT, by Kingston, New York's own Molly Smith Metzler. (Molly's comedy ELEMENOPEA was a big hit of SHADOWLAND's last season). Set in the suburbs of Long Island, where the haves and have nots live side by side, two new mothers create a strong bond despite their differences. Through daily conversations in their adjoining back yards during 'nap time,' these women create a powerful friendship. But the stakes are raised when a third mom asks to join the group. CRY IT OUT begins previews OCTOBER 4th, opens OCTOBER 5th, and plays through OCTOBER 20th.

SHADOWLAND STAGES' season is performed at The MainStage at SHADOWLAND STAGES - 157 Canal Street, Ellenville, NY 12428. Single tickets are $31 - $39 and both single tickets and subscriptions can be purchased at www.ShadowlandStages.org or by calling 845-647-5511.

Volunteers from the Federated Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster County helped with the event. The students were eager to see the brown trout and speak with the ECO.

Frost Valley YMCA Announces New Mini Chef Day Camp

Claryville - With summer only a few short months away, now is the perfect time to plan for summer day camp. Frost Valley YMCA has added to its summer lineup a new cooking specialty day camp for children entering grades 4th-5th, called Mini Chef.

Campers will learn to make basic snacks or meals, follow a recipe, and learn about kitchen safety. If time and scheduling allow, campers will also visit Frost Valley's Greenhouse to learn about gardening techniques and how vegetables are grown.

While cooking in the Teaching Kitchen is the highlight of the program, campers will also have time each day that is dedicated to traditional camp activities. They will enjoy climbing, sports and games, swimming, boating, arts and crafts, and more!

Frost Valley's Day Camp registration for this and dozens of other programs is now open and financial assistance applications are available. Visit FrostValley.org to see all the new programs. ## The Scene Too

By Jane Harrison

Spring is springing out grandly and not the least of which is the Music Hall of Grahamsville. HEARTBEAT is booked solid! This coming Saturday, enjoy the COUNTRY TRAVELERS LIVE. I'm going to be in the city until Wednesday so I'm counting on all of you to tell me how it was. I'll be back, though, in time to catch DAVID MILNER on Saturday May 4th. You may remember my talking about him in a previous column. This young man made a solo gig (I'm not sure if this will be solo) into a tremendously fun performance and I suggest you not miss him since he's so close.

Saturday night at Cabernet Frank's

Once again I have to say CABERNET FRANK'S in Parksville never disappoints. It is and has maintained its status as THE closest thing to an actual nightclub in all of Sullivan County. Last Saturday night it was the group PAPRIKA, and PAPRIKA is extraordinary!!! I've heard about them for well over a year but it took returning a camera to a good friend to get me out to see them. Their music is new and fresh encompassing everything from a Russian folk tune to a four drum masterpiece. If that sounds weird, I assure you it was not. Not to me or the packed house. They went on at 8 and by the time I got there a half hour later, every inch of the dance floor was alive. There were dignitaries among this crowd – Patrick Dollard, head of the Center For Discovery (who also attended the opening of HEARTBEAT), an award winning photojournalist, and the Health and Beauty editor of a major magazine...all who I know. There were others too, persons that I was introduced to, all attracted by PAPRIKA and the welcoming atmosphere of CABERNET FRANK'S. Did I mention that four of the five members were women?

Changing the subject, how many stir fries ARE there? I ordered my organic vegetable and fruits from Haven for Humanity's RAW HAVEN with that in mind. I have made one every night since I picked them up last Wednesday, each with a different flavor. I like stir fried veggies. I like that I can have as many as I want in that one dish. To register, go to havenforhumanity.org and click on RAW-MART and enter your email address. Then on Sunday and Monday, go back to the site to order. Please give them time to get your email into their system. Just between you and I, I'm feeding just me but I have yet to spend a twenty dollar bill. This is so worth it!!!! (and I'm back in my 'skinny jeans').

Until next time...get out there and see some music!!!

The first in our Early Bird Series! John Simon Jazz Trio on Sunday, April 28th – 40 Market Street, Ellenville – “doors open at 4 for "tea", concert at 5! - $10

On Sunday, April 28th, 3 musicians who call themselves “The Greater Ellenville Jazz Trio” will be appearing in concert at (location).

John Simon, who made a career for himself as a record producer in the 60's and 70's, is the group's pianist and arranger. Between them, drummer Jeff Siegel and bassist Rich Syracuse have played with jazz luminaries Mose Allison, Roland Hanna, Kurt Elling, Ron Carter, Jack DeJohnette, Benny Golson, John Medeski, Dave Liebman and many more.

The tight-knit trio has been together for close 8 years, playing every Thursday night at The Aroma Thyme Bistro in Ellenville. But here is an opportunity to hear their unique and swinging brand of music without the distractions of bar conversations and the clinking of glasses.

Seating is limited so get there early. The concert will also be recorded so don't miss the chance to have the sound of your hands clapping captured in perpetuity.

Don't miss this one. It's a rare event.

And Thursday, May 2nd 7:30 pm – 40 Market Street, Ellenville – Gamelan Orchestra Gamelan Son of Lion

GSOL is a New York based gamelan Orchestra using a set of instruments about half of which were built in the US and about half obtained in Java. As most members of the ensemble are skilled performers with various western instruments, these instruments are freely added to the mix.

GSOL is a composers collective, meaning that members of the ensemble write almost all of the music the ensemble performs. The adventurous program features a variety of instruments and music that will be new to many: works entitled Sabilulugan, Gamotet Marie which mixes elements of traditional central Javanese gamelan with Renaissance motet, a punk work rescored for gamelan with a side of Kecak (Balinese dance music), a traditional Kecak vocal demonstration, and a traditional Yiddish song Oyfn Pripetshik arranged for gamelan.

GSOL brings varied Indonesian music (Sundanese, west Javanese, central Javanese and Balinese) to Ellenville on May 2 at 7:30 pm.

Screen Free Week

On Monday, April 29 through Friday, May 3, all Tri Valley School Students in Pre-K to 6th grade are invited to participate in Screen Free Week. Each day from dismissal at 2:45 pm to 5 pm there will be another schedule of fun to be had rain or shine!

This is a nationwide event sponsored by Campaign for a Commercial-Free Childhood and celebrated each night by taking a break from TV, laptops, tablets, smart phones and video games. Join us and rediscover the joys of life beyond the screen. Commit to UNPLUG from digital entertainment!

This year we will focus on getting to know our community better. What are the buildings and who are the people inside? Each child will be given a healthy snack, engage in exercise, create one of a kind crafts & participate in activities to go with each night's theme.

Monday, April 29- Tie Dye a backpack, play bingo for school supply prizes, decorate a pillowcase resembling the cover of your favorite book, learn 7 habits of a happy kid. Read The Opposite Ornament Sisters by Ms. Ella Nichols.

Tuesday, April 30- Meet Mr. Christopher Rosa and his K9 from the Fallsburg Police Dept and Mr. Ed McCarthy, Fire chief of Grahamsville Fire Dept. Draw an escape plan in case of a fire. Read I could chew on this and other poems by Dogs by Francesco. Create a heart blown craft to take home.

Wednesday, May 1- We have barn quilts throughout our community. Learn where these quilts are located and details about how they make us unique. Make two barn quilt projects to take home. Read The Quilt Makers Gift by Jeff Brumbea. Decorate a special block to be added to a quilt to be displayed at the Neversink Town Hall.

Thursday, May 2 - Join us in reading two spiritually inspired books with Pastor Ronk from the Grahamsville Reformed Church & Pastor Seung Jin from the Grahamsville United Methodist Church. We will walk to the Grahamsville Reformed Church Hall for snacks and to create a Special Handprint ornament and poster.

Friday, May 3 - The Children will be bused to the Daniel Pierce Library to enjoy a private tour of the library -one of the best gems in our community. We will then visit the 1930s Lost Catskill Farm and go back in time to experience what farm life was like. You can lift a hay bale, play guessing games, see a 1880's barn, visit a farm house, listen to 1930's music and explore a milk house, outhouse and more. Have you ever seen a working waterwheel? You will on this farm! Spend a fun afternoon immersing yourself in your area's history! An Ice Cream Social to acknowledge the fact that you unplugged will round out the week! Thank you for making new memories with us!

"SOMEBODY UP THERE LIKES ME" (Drama, 1956) B/W - 113 m, TV-PG, Closed Captions. The true story of boxer ROCKY GRAZIANO'S rise from juvenile delinquent to world champ. Director Robert Wise. Starring Paul Newman, Pier Angeli, Everett Sloane, Eileen Heckart, Sal Mineo, Joseph Buloff, Robert Loggia, Steve McQueen. Top biography of boxer Rocky Graziano's rise from N.Y.C. sidewalk to arena success with fine performance by Newman. Script by Ernest Lehman; cinematographer Joseph Ruttenberg won an Oscar. Film debuts of McQueen and Loggia; 10:00 PM THE RACK, (Drama, 1956) A Korean War veteran is accused of cracking under enemy torture. Directed by Arnold Laven. Starring Paul Newman, Wendell Corey, Walter Pidgeon, Edmond O'Brien, Anne Francis, Lee Marvin, Cloris Leachman. Newman is pensive convincing as Korean War veteran - brainwashed as a POW - now on trial for treason, with Pidgeon as his overbearing father and Francis his friend. Slick production adapted from Rod Serling teleplay. Robert Blake, Dean Jones, and Rod Taylor have small roles; 4:00 AM early Thursday Morning, "THE SILVER CHALICE" (epic, 1954) A silversmith is charged with engraving the Holy Grail. Director Victor Saville. Starring Virginia Mayo, Pier Angeli, Jack Palance, Paul Newman, Walter Hampden, Joseph Wiseman, Alexander Scourby, Lorne Greene, E. G. Marshall, Natalie Wood. Newman's screen debut is undistinguished in the story of a Greek who designs framework for the cup used at the Last Supper. This is the film Newman once apologized for in a famous Hollywood trade ad. From the Thomas Costain novel; Lorne Greene's first film, too. CinemaScope. He looks like Marlon Brando, some reviewers said of this movie's 29-year-old star, but those comparisons would soon end and soon to impress with his own intense brilliance, Paul Newman.
